Church Affairs

Mrs. A. Rogers and Baraca classes of the First Baptist church enjoyed a juvenile party Friday night at the home of Prof. and Mrs. G. P. Putnam, on North Texas street. All the guests came in children's costume, ranging from babies to young folks, and playing children's games, created a great amount of merriment. The dining table was arranged as for a child's party, with a big pyramid of popcorn, a centerpiece and a large green paper dressed to simulate an Irishman. The latter part of the afternoon was spent in dancing. Mrs. Hogarth's home being so well adapted to entertaining, the music, living and dining rooms all opening into one, the rugs and furniture were removed and the rooms were attractively decorated with vases of pink and white carnations. Fruit punch and lemonade were served during the afternoon. At the close of the afternoon's pleasure an ice cream was served. The hostess being assisted by Miss Russell, Mary Louise Hawley, Anna Hawley, Florence Cathcart and Elizabeth Woodman. Mrs. Adams assisted in serving. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lee, Mrs. E. B. Lee, Miss Ethel Butler, Miss Thelma Butler and Will Lee, Robert Lee.

Union Carpenters Are Kept Busy; All Reported Working

The Conditions in Building Trades Circles in El Paso Unusually Good.

UNION carpenters in El Paso are being kept busy. Reports made to the Carpenters' union indicate that practically all the union carpenters are at work. H. F. Brown, the business agent of the union, says it difficult to find carpenters sufficient to fill the demand at present. Conditions are reported unusually good in building trades circles.

A. R. Webb, foreman; Chas. Border, Lawrence Funk and A. O'Rourke, members of the Carpenters' union, are working on a residence in Grand View for the Perry-Kirkpatrick company.

G. L. Borden, Ralph Taylor and Redding, members of the Carpenters' union, are working on a residence on Montana street for the Perry-Kirkpatrick company.

Walter Highsmith, Ole Jones and Jim Hamilton are putting shelving in the Morgan building for the Perry-Kirkpatrick company. They are members of the Carpenters' union.

W. A. Boynton and L. Lovelady have completed a residence on Waco street for the Perry-Kirkpatrick company.

Cards

Miss Emily Kemp entertained the Saturday Bridge club Saturday afternoon at her home on Macfadden avenue. There were thirty tables of play, only the members of the club being present. Miss Clara Fink was the prize winner. A dainty two course luncheon was served. Miss Maybelle Bryan will be the hostess of the club next week.

Mrs. Robert D. Reed was hostess Saturday afternoon at a very pretty appointed luncheon bridge party in honor of her guest, Mrs. James L. Ord, of Santa Barbara. Luncheon was served shortly after the guests' arrival, the card tables being laid with Canton cloths, and each table ornamented with a fragrant hyacinth plant in blossom. The three course luncheon was served upon Mrs. Reed's beautiful Canton china. Carrying out the St. Patrick's day season, the place cards were miniature St. Patrick figures; the silver was tied with small bows of green ribbons, and the ice cream was in green and brown. There were five tables, and each table ornamented with a doily. Dainty silk bags of brocade silk ribbons were awarded as a prize to the player receiving the highest score. At each table, with the pale pink hyacinth plant which ornamented the table going to the player receiving the second highest score. Mrs. Waters Davis won the bag and Mrs. LeRoy Elling the bag.
